MANY COMPLAIN LONG DELAY

Westsiders File Petitions for Connections With Sewer Laterals.

CONDITION OF OUTLET PIPE

PUMPS MAY START THIS WEEK AT INTERCEPTING STATION.

H. J. Dininny, city attorney, has prepared a waiver of the rights of the Campbell Building company which may be used if the city starts the pumps at the new intercepting sewer station. This waiver Mr. Campbell of the contracting company yesterday announced himself as willing to sign. There is a possibility that the pumps will be started this week, though some who have inspected the work are prepared to wager that the outlet pipe as laid will never be a success.

There have been many conflicting statements regarding this work. The intercepting sewer was finished many months ago. The pumping station has been built and the machinery installed. In line with the methods of the city, an engineer was hired and given charge before the work was ready for opening and before themachinery was really in. It is the 4.500 feet of wood stave pipe, the tail end of the work, that has delayed the whole sewer and given a black eye to the sewer system of the west side.

The council is divided on the proposition. T. R. Black is one of those who stand with the city engineer, and he believes that the city will eventually have to re-lay the whole outlet. Others say that if the pumps are started it will help the contractor to get the water out of the way. Others say that there are bulkheads in the intercepting, sewer itself, and that it will take time to remove these. Some hold that to start the pumps would be to do away with all chance of testing the outlet. because, if the pumps were stopped to have the test made, the water in the sewers and laterals would back up, and there would be a bunch of damage suits against the city on hand. The only thing known with certainty is that the whole sewer system of the west side has been held up for months.

Kelsey Says Nothing.

Kelsey Says Nothing.

Kelsey Says Nothing.

L. C. Kelsey, city engineer, has occupied a peculiar position during the wrangle over the outlet work. He is the city's engineer and, although the "American" party members of the council thought enough of him in that capacity to raise his pay recently, it has been a long time since he was asked a single question about the work. He smiles when it is mentloned. He sits in the council and board of works meetings, hears the members wrangling over the condition of the pipe, smiles and says nothing. During none of the arguments over the work has any member asked for his opinion as to the state of the work, though they have on a number of occasions asked for opinions from the city attorney on the legal phases. Kelsey has said that the wood on a number of occasions asked to opinions from the city attorney on the legal phases. Kelsey has said that the wood stave pipe as it was being laid would not do. Like some others, he is prepared to hear that the entire work may have to sewer is doing business. It will drain the whole western portion of the city and will permit of the abandonment of the present outlet in the Jordan for the gravity sewer.

Contractor Lost Money.

There is no doubt that the contractor for the wood stave pipe outlet has lost much money—some say $10,000. It is also true that the city is out money through the delay and trouble to which it has been put. At least it has lost $3 a day peen put. At least it has lost a day paid to each of the inspectors, who have worked long after the time set to finish the work. None of the big contractors, would touch the job and each of them predicted that it would be a failure.

The whole west side has been complaining for a long time at the delay and there are a load of petitions to connect with the sewer laterals.

The board of works has on its force a dozen men who are employed as inspectors on city contracts and who are paid 3f for every day they work. Some of them were supposed to have been on this work from the beginning, but twenty-five leaks were found in the pipe when an attempt was made to test it. Professor George Porter, principal of the Hallsville schools, has continually told the pupils that they should think twice before they speak. ## PRINCE CHING WAS GRACIOUS American and British Ministers Told There Would Be No Change of Policy.

Pekin, Jan. 16.—William W. Rockhill and Sir John Jordan, respectively the ministers to China for the United States and Great Britain, today expressed themselves as pleased with the reception accorded them yesterday by Prince Ching, president of the board of foreign affairs, whom they visited in connection with the dismissal of Yuan Shi Kai. They said the prince received them in the spirit in which they came, as representatives of the spirit in which they came, as representatives of the spirit in which they came, as representatives of the spirit in which they came, as representatives of the spirit in which they came, as representatives of the spirit in which they came, as representatives of the spirit in which they came, as representatives of the spirit in which they came, as representatives of the spirit in which they came, as representatives of the spirit in the spirit in which they came, as representatives of the spirit in the spirit in which they came, as representatives of the spirit in the spirit in which they came, as representatives of the spirit in the spirit in which they came, as representatives of the spirit in the spirit in which they came, as representatives of the spirit in the spirit in which they came, as representatives of the spirit in th

The mission under Tang Shao Yi, the special Chinese commissioner now in the United States, will be permitted to continue on its tour of the world, but a restricted schedule will be adopted. This change is due to the intervention of Prince Ching, who persuaded the regent to modify his determination to recall the mission. The prince at first desired that Tang Shao Yi's credentials be turned over to the Chinese ministers in Europe, but it is understood that Tang Shao Yi will pass a fortnight in each country he visits. He probably will reach Pekin in April.

True Sportsmen Everywhere the club rooms when the election of officers for the club for the ensuing year Interested in Preservation of Various Species.

New York, Jan. 16 .- To measure the contents of Uncle Sam's game bag during the new year is the object of a concerted effort in which sportsmen from every section of the country are joining the National Association of Audobon societies in this city. Detailed records of each day's shoot are to be secured from every true sportsman and required by law of every one else, it is proposed, in all states where the Audobon and sporting interests will urge the crying need of legislation to this effect. Unless the annual inroads upon the rapidly decreasing game of America are thus determined, the leaders of the new movement declared today, shooting as a healthy recreation will soon be killed in almost every region of the continent.

Menaced by Extinction.

Menaced by Extinction.

That the health, crops and woods, as well as the sport, of many extensive to-calities are today seriously menaced by the extinction of game birds will be demonstrated by the latest results of the scientific investigations of government authorities at Washington. Water fowl and shore birds will be shown in their natural capacity of destroying the anopheles mosquito as well as many other recognized distributors of deadly germs. Gulls and many other varieties of sea and inland water birds will be proven by ornithological experts to be wholesale destroyers of grasshoppers and a multitude of insects which cause an annual crop of forest loss of nearly a billion dollars, or more than the entire national debt as recently announced, according to the most recent calculations of the government bureau of entomology. The case of Salt Lake City, whose people have erected a monument to the gulls that saved all their crops from destruction by an insect plague will also be cited. oe cited.

In every one of the forty-four state leg-

In every one of the forty-four state legislatures which are beginning to convene for the new year special efforts to obtain legal provision for this game census are being planned among organized sportsmen and Audobon workers. Where a hunter's license law is already in force the addition of a law to enforce the recording of all game birds and animals shot will be urged. It is proposed, in order to protect the true sportsmen and to detect market hunters, to punish failure to report the season's shoot by a forfeiture of license and false returns by proceeding as against perjury. Special blanks for the purpose are being prepared as an attachment to all hunters' license cards.

Is a Gigantic Task.

When the purpose and necessity of this widespread checking up of the nation's game bag is realized by the people at large, the labor of compiling the records of the individual prowess of millions of hunters will be begun. In this gigantic task the officers of the National Association of Audobon societies have been promised the hearty assistance of the director. ised the hearty assistance of the director of the national conservation commission, a co-ordinate branch of which their organization has become by the special in-vitation of the authorities at Washington This conservation movement they will forward as one of their principal activities for the new year, together with their regular work of education, bird care on reservations and legislative campaigning

"The conservation of the dying races of the game birds and animals of this continent is an object for which we are finding every true sprtsman ready and eager to co-operate with us," said William Dutcher, president of the National Association of Audobon Societies, at its head-quarters. "The proposed census is the only sure way of determining the extent of the existing commercial bird butchery of the existing commercial bird butchery and the means to check it. Though we shall, of course, have to fight the organized and financially powerful market hunters at every step toward this. I feel sure that the support of the sportsmen will help us greatly and that we may rely upon the support of every patriotic American as well. The whole public debt of this nation has just been reported as $397,349,751. With a known annual loss of many millions more than this, due to the growing inroads of the insects which our game birds destroy, I do not think Americans can ignore this subject much longer."

Pitiful Story of Mary, Stranded Chorus Girl

Mary Brown has learned that the way of the stage is not the alluring primrose path pictured in the gaily colored posters or reflected in the plaudits of a pleased audience after a song-hit. Mary, or as the programs announced her, Marie, was lured to the stage as a chorus girl. Mary's company went broke in Salt Lake, and Mary became a stranded chorus girl. Then Mary in her woe began walking the streets of nights until one of Salt Lake's plain clothes men spied her, and with a "hist-st-st, what have we here?" landed her in jail.

Just about this time, however, Mary received assurance from a local employment bureau that waitresses were wanted in Butte. It was Butte for Mary, and ment bureau that waitresses were wanted in Butte. It was Butte for Mary, and the agency promised to advance a railroad ticket. On this showing Prosecutor Rogers asked the court that Mary be given the opportunity to leave town before sentence was passed.

When Mary went to get her ticket, however, there was, in street parlance, "nothin' doin'," and, as Mary was walking along the street again last night, she was rearrested, and will now serve out a ninety-day sentence in the city jail. Mary pleaded guilty to all that she was charged with, but couldn't raise the fine. Others charged with graver offenses were given but thirty days, and others, more fortunate in being able to raise money, escaped with fines. Poor Mary!
